Barge NKOSSA II

FSRU TOSCANA

Achievements

- Active along the entire LNG value chain
- Pioneer in FSRU (2005), STS Transfer (2006) and FLNG (2016)
- Developed OPTI production platform licence
- DV Offshore and EXMAR Offshore: +170 engineers with expertise in gas / floating activities

Infrastructure – 2022 Highlights

A handbrake turn

Highlights

- 5-year charter for the employment of FSRU EEMSHAVEN LNG with GASUNIE as floating LNG import terminal at Eemshaven in the Netherlands
- Sale of TANGO FLNG to ENI, currently in Dubai for reconversion
- Full ownership of LNGC EXCALIBUR + 10-year charter with ENI
- Contracts for engineering and ship management services related to Tango FLNG

Outlook

- Working on various new gas infrastructure developments
- Increased engineering capacity and revenue
- Future proof: FSRU can handle different types of gas molecules

Shipping - Assets and services

Integrated provider of gas transportation and transformation solutions

Assets

- 10 Fully pressurized LPG carriers
- 17 Midsize LPG/ammonia carriers (MGC)
 - 4 Newbuild MGC on order
 - 3 Very Large Gas carriers

Achievements

- Ships from 3,500 up to 88,000 m³
- Largest Owner in the Midsize LPG/Ammonia segment
- Leading innovator in gas shipping, pursuing fleet expansion
- Redesigning the MGC segment with the 46,000 m³ newbuilds on order, potentially first ammonia fuelled vessel

Shipping – Leading position

Strong contract portfolio - leader in future proof ammonia transportation

- Solid overall contract portfolio with high quality industrial counterparts
- Future proof business model, based on the seaborne transport of gas molecules (LNG, LPG, ammonia, CO2)
- EXMAR has always been one of the main leaders in the development of the industry and is today one of the leaders in the sea transport of ammonia

Key financials: Proportionate consolidation

Shipping – Market outlook

Strong LPG and ammonia fundamentals despite growing orderbook

Demand side – LPG and ammonia

- LPG continued steady growth in 2022 and US further consolidated as world's largest LPG exporter
- Ukraine war caused shift in ammonia trade with longer ton mile, long-term upside in green and blue ammonia
- New regulations have positive impact on tonnage demand

Supply side – orderbook and newbuild prices

- Over 45 new VLGCs expected in 2023, with positive employment outlook in line with more production and export
- Increase of the global MGC fleet with 37 vessels by 2025 (27% of total MGC fleet), mainly dual-fuelled LPG
- Investments in new pressurized capacity lagging behind
- Newbuild prices at all time high and yard capacity fully booked

EXMAR - 2022 Financial highlights

An eventful year

REVENUE / PROFIT

- Increase in 2022 as a result of:
- Full year of operation of the two 2021 VLGC newbuilds
 - Favourable market conditions also for the midsize segment
 - Employment of the FSRU EEMSHAVEN LNG
 - Higher licence and engineering revenue from different projects
 - Inclusion of the EXCALIBUR as from Q4 2022
 - BEXCO entering in the consolidation scope since 11/2022

CASH POSITION

The cash position on December 31st, 2022 amounted to USD 549.2 million and increased y-o-y by USD 364.2 million thanks to the receipt of the net proceeds of the sale of TANGO LNG

EXMAR – Yesterday, today and tomorrow

Care for today, respect for tomorrow

Sustainability, a lot is coming:

- Inclusion of shipping into EU ETS system
- New IMO regulations (EEXI and CII, from 2023 onwards)
- CSRD reporting requirements
- EXMAR pursuing various CO₂ transport projects
- FSRU securing energy supply for North Western Europe
- TANGO FLNG will capture flare gas for utilisation further downstream

Innovation will continue to define EXMAR:

- Designed the first FSRU worldwide
- Pioneered in FLNG
- Taking the lead in the midsize segment with its 7th generation newbuilds
- CO₂ capture and storage projects
- Development of potentially the world's first seagoing vessel being fuelled by ammonia

“As long as energy will be transported over sea, the world will need EXMAR.”
